

Getting Started

STEP 1 : Obtain a CCO ID

Each employee must generate a username and password (CCO ID) for themselves on Cisco.com to protect their privacy, ensuring training in progress and other information they view is their own. Please follow these instructions to obtain a CCO ID. Email Cisco with problems establishing a Cisco.com account. All of the benefits of obtaining Cisco.com ID can be found here

STEP 2 : Get yourself enrolled in PSS

Request help from your Company's Administrator to get yourself assigned to your company on Partner Self Service tool. CCO ID is required for a contact to have access to Cisco resources; if you add a contact with an Email ID, they will not have access.

STEP 3 : Find out your Cisco rep at Cam Locator

The Account Team Directory (CAM locator) allows you to view the Cisco Team associated with a given account. By entering a company name and selecting a country, the Account Team Directory will return the Cisco Team members associated with the matching account(s). If your Company does not have a Cisco representative assigned, reach out to your Distributors

STEP 4 : Access the channel Partner Welcome Kit

This online partner kit contains links to tools and programs designed to help you succeed in today's markets. We encourage you to take advantage of these materials to grow your Cisco practice
